

Celebrating a Decade of Success

On September 1, 2015, we at Daiichi Jitsugyo Viswill Co., Ltd. celebrated our tenth anniversary of founding. All the members of our company are delighted with this achievement. We are truly grateful to our customers, business partners and all other stakeholders for their generous support.

In fact, Viswill's visual inspection system business goes back more than forty years, as our forebear was originally established as Kanebo Engineering in 1971. Looking back since the company took its present form on September 1, 2005, I can recount many memorable events. The tablet inspection system TVIS-EXX was launched in 2000, which evolved with a minor change into the EX2 and EX3 models, followed by color-camera mounted and 3D-inspection enabled models. We launched a reasonably priced and high processing-capacity visual inspection system for the health food industry as well as an A5 model for the electronics industry. Many other products followed, including an A6 model, the PL model for the inspection of chip components on the tray, and the SN model for the inspection of cylindrical components. In marketing our products, we not only expanded into the Japanese but also the international arenas, and successfully established strong footholds. Not too long ago the total sales of our inspection system topped 1,000 units.

A special moment of pride came in October 2014 when our 3D technology was awarded the Nakai Prize by the Japan Society of Pharmaceutical Machinery and Engineering. This year, we established our Korea Branch to serve as our first manufacturing center overseas. We have been proactive in driving forward our business despite some setbacks in the wake of the Lehman Shock. Our drive has been powered by our tireless development of new products and our constant desire to provide customer satisfaction. Our business has been successful thanks to all the support we have received from our stakeholders in building up a solid foundation. I would like to take this opportunity to repeat how grateful we are for the generous support given to us.

The strength and mainstay of our business is the visual inspection system. This is a system that assists the manufacturing activities of our customers by assuring the visible quality of products, freeing our customers' operatives from the intensive visual inspection work using the human eye. The top priority of our management policy is to become the world's best visual inspection system manufacturer. By this I mean providing a reliable system that provides higher customer satisfaction. We aim to deliver a system that makes customers happy to use. By supporting customers in this way, we can contribute to society at large, allowing us to be confident, proud and happy in the work we are doing, spurring ourselves on and aiming even higher to be the Best in the World.

Viswill has entered a new decade. On September 1, we made a fresh start. We are resolved to optimize Viswill's potential. We will not be afraid of mistakes. We will give innovative ideas a free rein so that we can take up new challenges with greater ambition. We will continue to manufacture Viswill brand products that are world class, products that make customers say with real satisfaction, "Viswill is No.1."

“Sincere gratitude to everyone who supported Viswill in achieving a decade of success” – this was the theme of the anniversary celebration we held. This theme will stay active in all Viswill members’ hearts, moving us further forward in an unwavering drive for more advancement. Please continue to support us in our second decade of effort for success.
